In the Matter of: PARENT ON BEHALF OF STUDENT, v. GLENDALE UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT.	OAH Case No. 2015100596 ORDER OF DETERMINATION OF SUFFICIENCY OF DUE PROCESS COMPLAINT

On October 14, 2015, Student filed a Due Process Hearing Request[1] (complaint) naming Glendale Unified School District.

On October 26, 2015, District filed a Notice of Insufficiency as to Student's complaint.

APPLICABLE LAW

The named parties to a due process hearing request have the right to challenge the sufficiency of the complaint.[2] The party filing the complaint is not entitled to a hearing unless the complaint meets the requirements of title 20 United States Code section 1415(b)(7)(A).

A complaint is sufficient if it contains: (1) a description of the nature of the problem of the child relating to the proposed initiation or change concerning the identification, evaluation, or educational placement of the child, or the provision of a free appropriate public education to the child; (2) facts relating to the problem; and (3) a proposed resolution of the problem to the extent known and available to the party at the time.[3] These requirements prevent vague and confusing complaints, and promote fairness by providing the named parties with sufficient information to know how to prepare for the hearing and how to participate in resolution sessions and mediation.[4]

The complaint provides enough information when it provides "an awareness and understanding of the issues forming the basis of the complaint."[5] The pleading requirements should be liberally construed in light of the broad remedial purposes of the IDEA and the relative informality of the due process hearings it authorizes.[6] Whether the complaint is sufficient is a matter within the sound discretion of the Administrative Law Judge.[7]

DISCUSSION

The single issue listed in Student's complaint is that Student has been unable to access the curriculum and make academic progress because District has failed to provide him with behavioral support services and a structured and appropriately individualized educational program. As a consequence, student asserts that he has suffered the following harms: behavioral regression, school avoidance, and manifestations of his behavioral disability in disciplinary incidents.

District contends that that the complaint does not specify the dates of the IEP(s) at issue or how Student's IEP was insufficiently individualized and structured. Although Student's IEPs are within the District's records, it cannot be determined from Student's complaint what time period is at issue or which IEPs Student believes are defective. Further, it is unclear whether Student is alleging an issue related to the implementation of his behavior support or whether Student is alleging issues related to the IEP formulation process.

Therefore, Student has failed to state sufficient facts supporting this claim, and the claim is insufficient.

Student's proposed resolution requests placement at a non-public school and states that Student should be provided with all necessary related services and supports for his education. A complaint is required to include proposed resolutions to the problem, to the extent known and available to the party at the time. (20 U.S.C. §1415(b)(7)(A)(ii)(IV).) Student has met the statutorily required standard of stating a resolution to the extent known and available to him at the time.
