Reference: Government Code Section 11346.5(a)(2).

CBSC proposes to adopt these building standards under the authority granted by Health and Safety Code Section 18949.1.

For DSA-SS the purpose of these building standards is to implement, interpret, or make specific the provisions of Education Code Sections 17280 through 17317, and 81130 through 81147. DSA-SS is proposing this regulatory action based on Education Code Sections 17310 and 81142.

INFORMATIVE DIGEST

Reference: Government Code Section 11346.5(a)(3).

Summary of Existing Laws

Section 16022 of the Health and Safety Code authorizes the State Architect to establish building standards for state-owned and state-leased essential services buildings.

Sections 17310 and 81142 of the Education Code authorize the State Architect to establish building standards for public elementary and secondary schools, and community colleges.

Sections 81052 and 81053 of the Education Code authorize the State Architect to establish building standards which a community college may elect to use in lieu of those standards promulgated in accordance with Education Code section 81142.

Summary of Existing Regulations

Existing green building standards apply to the planning, design, operation, construction, use and occupancy of every newly constructed building or structure throughout the State of California. It is not the intent that the green building standards substitute or be identified as meeting the certification requirements of any green building program. The green building standards for public elementary and secondary schools and community colleges are promulgated by the DSA. These regulations are contained in the California Green Building Standards Code (CALGreen Code, Part 11, Title 24) and incorporate the following:

- Part 3, California Electrical Code, which prescribe the design and construction requirements for electrical systems of public elementary and secondary schools, and community colleges.
- Part 4, California Mechanical Code, which prescribe the design and construction requirements for mechanical systems of public elementary and secondary schools and community colleges.
- Part 5, California Plumbing Code, which prescribe the design and construction requirements for plumbing systems of public elementary and secondary schools, and community colleges.
- Part 6, the California Energy Code, which contains minimum energy efficiency standards for the non-residential buildings in California promulgated by the California Energy Commission (CEC).

- Part 11, the California Green Building Standards Code (CALGreen), which contains mandatory and voluntary green building standards for residential and non-residential facilities.
- Other relevant CCR titles:
- Title 17 includes regulations for air quality promulgated by the California Air Resources Board.

Summary of Effect

The proposed action will implement the proposed modifications to the California Green Building Standards Code for buildings within DSA authority. The proposed amendments contain substantive changes which include a new alternative method for meeting mandatory provisions for the number of required electric vehicle (EV) spaces provided with EV capable infrastructure. Additionally new provisions requiring the installation of electric vehicle supply equipment in some addition and alteration projects, the installation of CO2 monitors in existing public K–12 schools, and new provisions for carbon reduction in new and existing building projects, and editorial and non-substantive amendments with no intended change in regulatory effect.

Once filed with Secretary of State, the standards will be codified and published by Jan 1, 2024, and will become effective July 1, 2024.

DSA Statement:

DSA has made an initial determination of no significant, statewide adverse economic impact directly affecting business in California and their ability to compete with businesses in other states. This determination is based on comments received at the workshop on the proposed amendments to the electric vehicle regulations and the cost benefit analysis provided by the California Air Resources Board. DSA has shown in the Economic and Fiscal Impact Statement (399) documents and the Initial Statement of Reasons (ISOR) which are part of this rulemaking, that the electric vehicle regulations and the requirements for CO2 monitors in existing classrooms, and introductory standards for carbon reduction measures in building projects over 50,000 sf do not pose a significant adverse economic impact on businesses.

Additional industries that may experience growth are professional services related to the creation of environmental product declarations, and whole building life cycle assessments.

D. The benefits of the regulation to the health and welfare of California residents, worker safety, and the state's environment.

DSA Statement: The proposed editorial amendments and adoptions to the regulations will have a positive benefit to California residents as they will add requirements to the design and implementation of sustainable facilities. The CO2 monitoring requirements will improve indoor air quality and overall public health in the state learning environments. The EV and carbon reduction regulations will also have a positive benefit to the state's environment by reducing greenhouse gas emissions and embodied carbon.
