General Information What Does "Assist or Arrange a Trip" Mean?

In Concur and within this document, "Assist" and "Arrange" mean the same thing. In Concur, arranging a trip means you book a trip for a different person.

1.2 Who can Assist or Arrange a Trip?

Arranging a trip is a Concur functionality for any agency employee with a Concur profile.

This feature is often used by Travel Coordinators for their agency's travelers; however, it can be used by any employee who books travel for others.

1.3 How Do I Get Assisting/Arranging Permissions?

Arrangers must have their own Concur profile. See 'How Does a Traveler Request Access to Concur' for information on getting a profile.

Arrangers need to have the correct permissions assigned to book for others. See 'Assigning a Travel Arranger/Assistant' for instructions on how to become a travel Arranger/Assistant.

2. Step-by-step Instructions2.1 How to Arrange a Trip

Log into Concur under your account. See 'Logging Into Concur' for more information.

Click the blue circle in the upper right corner and choose 'Act as another user.'

Under 'Act As,' click 'A Delegate for another user who has granted you this permission.'

Type the traveler's name. As you type, the drop down will auto-populate with Concur users who have granted you Travel Arranging permissions. If the person whom you are booking travel for does not show up, you are not assigned as a travel Assistant/Arranger for their profile. See 'Assigning a Travel Arranger/Assistant' for instructions on how to remedy this. Choose the correct user from the drop-down menu and click 'Switch.'

The screen will reload. The green icon in the upper right-hand corner signifies you are acting as another user.

HOW TO ASSIST/ARRANGE A TRIP

From there, you can book flights, trains, car rentals, and hotel stays for someone else. For more information on how to book travel, please see 'How to Book Air,' 'How to Book a Car Rental,' 'How to Book a Hotel,' and/or 'How to Book a Train.'
